The best solutions for those who matter most

Matrimonial and family problems, whatever their nature, can have an upsetting effect on the whole family, both financially and emotionally. The breakdown of a marriage is one of the most traumatic events a person can suffer. It can be as big an emotional upheaval as the loss of a job or a family bereavement. These can be amongst the most difficult times that our clients experience. Emotions run high at these times, and this can affect a person's judgement. Practical, professional advice is needed and will ensure a considerable saving both emotionally and financially. Access to sympathetic but accurate legal advice is essential.

"When problems arise in family matters, you need experienced family law solicitors who can provide sympathetic, specialist advice on a wide range of circumstances and sensitive issues."

We provide sensitive advice and work effectively to achieve the most practical solution for you. Our aim is to achieve a constructive and amicable solution in order to keep costs and stress to a minimum.

We can advise you in connection with any family and matrimonial matters including:

We are a member of Resolution - first for family law - which is a national organisation of family lawyers committed to a non-confrontational approach to divorce, separation and other family problems.

All of our lawyers follow the Resolution Code of Practice. This means we are committed to the constructive resolution of family disputes, and that we take an approach that is sensitive, constructive, cost-effective and most likely to result in an agreement. Resolution members encourage solutions that consider the needs of the whole family, and in particular the best interests of children. We inform our clients of other available options including counselling, family therapy, mediation, collaborative law and round table proceedings. However, sometimes court proceedings are unavoidable. We have the experience to advise and assist you throughout the Court process and ensure that you are properly represented at all stages.
