Professional Negligence

The trust we place in professionals we hire is never given lightly and it can be devastating when that trust is abused. We are specialists in this highly complex area of law and act solely for Claimants. We offer a free half hour consultation, and are able to offer a raft of alternative funding options including 'No Win No Fee' arrangements.

Trade Union Services

Passionate about people

At Morrish Solicitors we are very proud to have acted for Trade Unions and their members since 1906 when we were first appointed by the Farriers and Blacksmiths. Ever since our foundation in 1882, we have represented the interests of working people.

Today, we act for Union members nationwide, spanning all sectors and providing advice, support and representation at all levels from the most straightforward injury claim to the most complex industrial relations issues. We act for a wide range of Unions - from Britain's biggest Union to some of the smallest Staff Associations, and many in between - and each client is treated with the same dedication and drive to give the very best advice and quality representation.

Unlike many other firms we do not have a 'trade union department'. We are, quite simply, a Trade Union firm. We are totally committed to the Trade Union movement, with a Recognition Agreement in place, almost 100% Union membership and a Trade Union branch secretary onsite. Many of our Partners are involved in the wider Trade Union movement in a personal capacity.

We are committed to providing the very best quality of service available. Our Trade Union clients' claims are not handled by inexperienced paralegals. We retain a dedicated team of experienced, skilled and motivated lawyers who are inspired by achieving the best results for our clients.
